THE HISTORIC HEART OF TASMANIA

Campbell Town
Conara /Cleveland /Epping Forest
Lake Leake/Kalangadoo

and surrounds

ATTRACTIONS:

Campbell Town was established in the 1820's as a garrison town between Launceston and Hobart.

There are over a hundred homes aged a century or more, with some fine examples of colonial architecture. Take a heritage walk around the town, you will be amazed at what you might find.

There are three different walks through history which are well signposted. Walk along the river were visitors will find shaded picnic and BBQ areas, a playground for children, a number of historical features including, the Original Bridge, the Old Swimming Pool, Pumphouse and the Elizabeth Campbell Wetlands area.

Brochures on the walks and history of the area, are available at the Museum & Visitor Information Centre and other business's through out the town.

A. Heritage Highway Museum & Visitor Information Centre

The history of the Midlands presented in a Working Courthouse in the town's centre. ph 63811353

B. Red Bridge 1836-38

The oldest convict built red brick bridge in Australia. Originally constructed for horse drawn vehicles, the bridge is now crossed by up to two million vehicles a year, and it's still in almost pristine condition.

C. Elizabeth River

Known to the aboriginal people as Parndokerner Liapinder (water flowing from the east) The Elizabeth river flows from the Eastern Tiers to the Macquarie river which eventually joins with the South Esk river and finally flows through the Cateract Gorge and into the Tamar Basin in Launceston. Originally a seasonal river which flowed only in the wetter months, it became a permanent river only after Lake Leake was constructed in 1880.

D. Harold Gatty Memorial

Campbell Town born and bred, Harold Gatty navigated American pilot Wiley Post around the world in eight days in 1931. He also invented the navigational system used by the US Air Force in WWII. Found to the North of the town the memorial celebrates his achievements.

E. Campbell Town Convict Brick Trail

A commemoration and celebration of our convict history. Each brick engraved with the names and a few personal details of convicts transported to Australia & Norfolk Island.
